

Hello, nice to chat with you.

user1

I think that the republicans are more hypocritical. They like to say that they are the party of pro-life, but when it comes to children dying from gunfire, they are silent.

user2

Hello Apple.

user2

Democrats can be hypocritical too because they don't act on anything. It is frustrating.

user2

I agree with you on the conclusion that Republicans re more hypocritical.

user1

The gun control policy is a solid evidence on this matter.

user1

Yes, I agree. Its so sad.

user2

I think Dems are doing fine on this matter.

user1

Especially with how much money the republicans take from the NRA.

user2

They at least support many policeis such as strict gun control, pro-choice, LGBTQ groups, etc.

user1

Yeah, but they can do better to actually get laws passed.

user2

Very true.

user2

The politics is something we may not full understand.

user1

The congress has issues to pass many laws.

user1

Like Sen Manchin

user1

The bureaucracy of it all is frustrating.

user2

He blocked several laws in the past few months.

user1

Yeah, I don't know why he still says he is a democrat.

user2

I appreciated what Beto O'Rourke did yesterday.

user2

Dem needs to work together, but some conservative Dems just has their own thoughts.

user1

What he did yesterday?

user1

Yeah, but they refuse to even work together.

user2

He confronted Gregg Abott at his press conference in Texas.

user2

We need more outspoken people like him.

user2

In office.

user2

I see. Yeah, people need to stand up and fight.

user1

Most definitely.

user2

The president should do more.

user1

I am not a big fan of President Biden, but he could do much more.

user1

I agree that Biden does need to do more beyond just platitudes. Pass some executive orders.

user2

He needs to unite the Dems and even some Republicaans.

user1

So now comes back to the topic of hypocritical issue.

user1

YEah for sure

user2

I think we are on the same page.

user1

me too
